

PICK OFFICERS FOR RED CROSS BRANCH

Mrs. George B. Evans, Acting
Leader, Will Be Made
Chairman.

COMMITTEE GIVES LIST

New officers for the Main Line Branch of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter of the Red Cross were chosen this week by a nominating committee headed by Miss Louisa Rawle as chairman and Mrs. William E. Carter, Jr., and Mrs. Eugene Hooper.

The elections will take place Tuesday, November 13, at the annual meeting of the branch in its headquarters at the Memorial Building in Bryn Mawr. The polls will be open from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

The elections will be a mere formality as only one candidate was named for each position by the nominating committee. Mrs. George B. Evans, acting chairman of the branch, was nominated for the permanent post. She succeeded Mrs. George Ferguson, who, before her marriage recently, was Mrs. Alexander Brown. Mrs. Ferguson resigned upon removing her residence from the Main Line, at a special meeting of the directors in September.

The other officers, most of whom were re-nominated, are: First vice president, Mrs. Fletcher W. Stites; second vice president, Mrs. Edgar B. Howard; secretary, Mrs. Emmett R. Tamm; treasurer, Miss M. Louise Townsend; chairman of the Roll Call, Mrs. Mathew H. Cryer; chairman of Child Welfare, Mrs. William E. Carter, 2d; chairman House Service Section, Mrs. Harold W. How; chairman Transportation Committee, Mrs. Edwin C. Donaghy; chairman Junior Red Cross, Miss Eleanor Dougherty.

Named for Board.
Directors-at-large were nominated as follows:

Mrs. James Emmott Caldwell, Mrs. Charles Francis Clement, Mrs. Clarence W. Dolan, Mrs. H. C. Fenno, Mrs. Gurney Fine, Mrs. Francis Godley, Mrs. James H. Genung, Miss Augusta L. Harrison, Mrs. C. S. CLUB MEMBERS AT COUNTY MEETING

Fourteen Narberth Clubwomen Attend Federation at Ambler.

LUNCHEON IS TUESDAY

The Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs held in Ambler, Pa., Thursday, October 18, with the Colony Club acting as hostess, was attended by 14 of the Narberth Community Club members.

Mrs. A. B. Ross, chairman, gave a high light report of the State Convention at Lancaster. The Chairman of American Homes, Mrs. Walter Supple, said, "Love and knowledge are the cornerstones of the home and the field is endless for this work." She mentioned the advantage of the recent General Federation home survey in bettering equipment for women in their work. Since all club women are owners or members of homes they are expected to work for nothing short of the best homes in the world.

The Civic's Chairman, Mrs. William Russell asked for the completion of the Tuberculosis Survey, prison farm help and moving pictures for the children. All of the 12 chairmen have large programs planned for the year. The legislative chairman, Mrs. J. B. Marshall, commenting on the approaching election said, "all vote and vote early, but do

Where We Stand

A reader, noticing the large amount of Democratic publicity in Our Town, asked us the other day whether or not the paper had "Gone Smith."

This paper is open to all fair expressions of opinion and to news of all local events. The Smith supporters have availed themselves of this privilege, and some interesting reading matter has resulted.

We encourage more comment—from both parties. Our Town, as a newspaper, has no bias on religion or politics. It will suppress no proper comments from its readers, in spite of the fact that both the editor and the publisher, as private citizens, are Republican, Protestant, and plan to vote for Mr. Hoover!

G. O. P.'S ACTIVE AS ELECTION NEARS

Mrs. Lorimer and Mrs. Nichols to Speak at Elm Hall
Nov. 5th.

MOVIE WELL ATTENDED

The Hoover movie, "The Master of Emergencies" shown last Friday night at Elm Hall was viewed with enthusiasm by approximately 600 people. The film was shown continuously from 7:30 till 11. As a result of the performance the local Hoover Club was enabled to turn over $85 to the Republican National Committee.

Mrs. George Horace Lorimer and Mrs. H. S. Prentice Nichols will be the speakers at a Republican meeting at Elm Hall on Monday, November 5 at 2:30. This meeting will be the last campaign event since it is followed by election on November 6.

On election day a special luncheon and dinner will be served at Hoover Headquarters, 100 Narberth avenue, by Marios Chios proprietor of the Arcadia Restaurant.

All women who have not already done so, and men too, are cordially invited to inspect the sample ballot posted in the headquarters. This invitation applies regardless of party affiliation for the chief purpose is to familiarize people with the amendments and thus speed up the voting.

Any persons who would like to be taken to the polls on election day are offered that accommodation by the Hoover Headquarters. Automobiles are available and may be had on November 6 by getting in touch with the headquarters. (Narberth 4124)

Persons who are interested in the disposition of funds which have come into the hands of the local Hoover Club may be enlightened by the financial report to be made by Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller at the headquarters this morning.

Through the courtesy of William D. and H. T. Smedley, the store at 100 Narberth avenue which has been serving as campaign headquarters for the Hoover Club, will continue to be available as a meeting place and workroom for Welfare workers, red cross workers and similar bodies of men and women.

Welfare Workers Needed

An urgent request for more volunteer workers was made this week by Daniel Leitch, chairman of the local Welfare Federation drive which opened last Monday. Only 17 workers have been enrolled so far and many more are needed if the campaign is to go over in proper fashion by the closing date which is November 2d.

The workers enrolled to date include the following: H. R. Terry, Mrs. E. C. Griswold, Mrs. D. Warren Wright, Charles W. Evans, W. S. Bossert, Alexander Gillfillan, C. R. Starn, Mrs. L. H. Trotter, Ralph Rankin, Mrs. H. V. Whitney, Mrs. W. Elmer Titus, Mrs. F. W. Bellows, Mrs. S. Robert Ross, A. H. Wilson, Henry A. Frye, Mrs. Florence Wilson, Mrs. R. M. Staley.

Governor Visits Rotary

Charles Ackley, governor of the Fiftieth Rotary district, made his official visit to the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club Tuesday. A number of other prominent Rotarians from Philadelphia were in attendance.

Governor Ackley delivered a message to the club on Rotary activities, and consulted with committees on the work of the year.

STAGE IS SET FOR OLD-FASHION RALLY

Red Flares, Brass Band and Parade to Feature Show of Democrats.

WILL BE IN ARDMORE

An old-fashioned political parade with a brass band, red flares and all the rest of the trimmings will feature a mass meeting and rally which Main Line Democrats will hold Tuesday night at Ardmore in the interests of the Smith Presidential campaign. The parade will wind up in front of the township building on Lancaster pike, where the meeting proper will be held—outside, if fair weather, inside, in the commission chamber, if it rains.

A speaker at the affair may be Roland S. Morris, former ambassador to Japan, who was a talker at a Norristown rally Wednesday night. Chairman will be either Richard J. Hamilton, of Ardmore Lower Merion school board member, or Arthur W. Burns, Narberth, head of the Lower Merion and Narberth Democratic committee, under whose auspices the show will be staged.

Definite announcement was made yesterday by the committee of two speakers for the rally. One will be Miss Gertrude Ely, of Bryn Mawr, delegate to the Houston convention and former head of the Montgomery League of Women Voters. Another will be Harry Grimm, of Perkasie, Bucks county, a former Democratic candidate for Governor.

The weekly meetings of the committee which have been held regularly on Saturday nights in the old Merion Title building in Ardmore, will be interrupted tomorrow by the appearance of Governor Smith in Philadelphia.

Weather Report Hints at Cool Days Soon

Only one clear day last week, Sunday, was reported by Main Line Co-operative weather observer, Charles A. Decker, of Narberth. Temperatures of 82 degrees were reported for two days, last Wednesday and Thursday, which are also the highest record for the date.

The thermometer showed a tendency to vary considerably going as it did from 82 to 37 the latter being the lowest record for the week.

More consistently cooler weather would seem to be in store for this section judging from the last three days of the week when the mercury did not rise over 67.

The high and low readings for the week are as follows: Tuesday, 16, 77-57; Wednesday, 17, 82-64; Thursday, 18, 82-64; Friday, 19, 78-59; Saturday, 20, 64-49; Sunday, 21, 63-37; Monday, 22, 67-41.

Sentence Revoked

The six-month sentence of Claude H. Crane, Narberth druggist convicted October 4th of liquor law violation, was revoked this week by Federal Judge Dickinson, and a fine substituted.

This action agreed with the recommendation of mercy brought in by the jury, and followed efforts of a group of citizens in behalf of Mr. Crane. Those working in his behalf brought out the fact that Mr. Crane's status as a merchant and citizen justified a less harsh penalty for the law violation.

L. M. Eleven Wins Another But Is Held to Third Quarter Before Given Lead

Lower Merion High added another football victory to her 1928 record Saturday against the hard-playing boys from Haverford High School. Late in the fourth quarter the Maroon backs surged through the gaps that developed in the visitors' forward wall, left a 19 to 12 victory in their wake and rolled on triumph toward their clashes with Lansdowne, Abington, Norristown, Upper Darby and Radnor.

Faulty handling of the ball resulted in the initial touchdown made by Haverford, and when the first half ended, it looked very, very serious for Lower Merionites. Kohlhas' punting was bad due to an injured hip and this was quite a help to the visitors; Ernie Mandes was not getting the best results out of his end runs, and the other backs were not giving the ball carrier the best in

BOARD GIVES WATER OFFICIAL O. K.; CAN YET WORK IN SYMPATHY---DAVIS

Manager Gives Company's
Side of Matter in Talk
Before Club.

EXPLAINS TWO VIEWS

Statement by the Lower Merion Board three weeks ago warning that the Springfield water served in this section of the Main Line by the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company should be boiled before drinking, and counter statement by the water company that its product was pure and wholesome and needed no such precautionary measures do not necessarily place these two agencies "in a position of antagonism nor one which should prevent sympathetic working together for the protection of the public health in Lower Merion and all suburban Philadelphia."

Such was the statement Tuesday night of Carleton E. Davis, manager of the Philadelphia Suburban who gave the water company's side of the controversy in a speech before the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club at its monthly meeting in the Cynwyd fire hall.

"Doctors frequently disagree," Mr. Davis in explaining the two stands taken on the water question. "I am here, however, to reaffirm our statement," he continued, "and to tell you that convincing confirmatory evidence has been forthcoming that Springfield water was and is perfectly safe to drink as drawn from the spigot." During the course of the talk he told in detail of the water system which serves the general Main Line territory, and explained from where the water is taken and how it is handled.

Following Mr. Davis' address, question was brought up about a bad taste and odor to the water of which one member complained. "That taste occurred September 26, a Thursday; continued through Friday, but was gone by Saturday," Mr. Davis said. It was brought about by the sudden cold spell and our new storage reservoir in the Pickering Valley which is not yet in a "ripened condition," as we term it.

At Smith County Rally

Delegations from Bryn Mawr, Ardmore, Narberth, Cynwyd and other sections of the Main Line attended a Democratic mass meeting held Wednesday night in the Norristown City Hall. Edward F. Kane, county chairman of Merion, presided.

Roland Morris, member of the University of Pennsylvania faculty and former ambassador to Japan, was the feature speaker in the interests of the Presidential campaign of Governor Smith. Among the other speakers were Charles McAvoy, county Democratic leader; Harry Grimm, of Perkasie, former Democratic candidate for Governor. Several candidates on the county Democratic ticket also spoke.

Among those from Narberth who attended were Councilman Edward S. Haws, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Arthur W. Burns and Joseph Kelly.

Controversy Closed as Chemist Reports New Low Count.

HOLD SPECIAL SESSION

Lower Merion's drinking water is once more safe and officially so this time. The same agency which called its quality into question three weeks ago has placed it back upon the approved list.

That agency is the Lower Merion Board of Health, and its action bringing to a close the water controversy was taken Monday night at a special meeting in the township building at Ardmore.

The board met for the sole purpose of hearing further findings of its chemist, Dr. David W. Horn, of Bryn Mawr, who has been making regular tests of the water supply since early this month when the board deemed it necessary to issue a warning against the product of the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company which serves Lower Merion, Narberth and the general Main Line district.

Dr. Horn reported that from October 1 to the 25th, Saturday, the average bacterial count of the water had been only 6 per cubic centimeter, and that during this period there had not been a single count of over 100 per cc., the maximum allowed by the board for safety.

At the meeting three weeks ago he had reported an average bacterial count of 164 per cc. for the two and a half month period immediately preceding, and announced that 54 per cent. of the tests had shown counts greater than 100 per cc.

As the Board declared in a statement which it issued followed its special meeting: "It is apparent that the condition of the water has very materially improved since the Board of Health issued its warning October 1."

The tests of Dr. Horn from October 1 to 25, not only showed improvement in the condition of the water over what it was in September and August, but also revealed that the water is now in the best condition it has been this year, on

Attend State Congress

The ten members of the Mothers' Council who attended the State Congress of Parents and Teachers report a most profitable and enjoyable four days' stay at Easton, Pa. There were addresses by Dr. Mather Lewis, President of Lafayette College, Dr. James Heberling, who is coming to the Narberth Mothers' Council later in the winter; Mrs. A. H. Reeve, International President of Parent and Teacher Association and many other speakers of prominence and ability. A more detailed report will be given by these delegates at our next meeting.

The Pennsylvania Congress of Parent-Teachers has received a charter from the State and under the new constitution conventions will be held bi-ennially instead of annually. Mrs. William Brice, Jr., of Bedford, Pa., was re-elected president.

New Store Opened

A modern and well appointed shop devoted to the sale of Orthophonic Victrolas and radios was opened this week at 233 Haverford avenue, Narberth, in the new Nash building, by the J. Richard Shryock Company, of Bryn Mawr and Wynnefield avenues, Philadelphia.

Hold Luncheon

The Women's Missionary Society of the Lutheran Church will hold a luncheon in the basement of the church on Wednesday, October 31 at 12:30. All friends are cordially invited.

To Play at School

The Main Line Orchestra has chosen the auditorium of the Lower Merion Junior High School as the scene of its concerts during the coming season, officers of the association have announced.

Instead of giving the programs on Sundays at the Ardmore Theater, Friday nights will be set as the times for the concerts. The first is scheduled for November 23d.

SPEAKERS FEATURE BASEBALL BANQUET

Young, McLinn, Stites, Thomas, Pennock and Dykes
at Annual Affair.

WALZER'S SWAN SONG

The annual banquet of the Narberth Baseball Club to be held Tuesday, October 30, at 7 o'clock at Elm Hall will be a noteworthy affair, judging from the array of speakers secured. Heading the list is Lou Young, coach of the University of Pennsylvania football team; Stoney McLinn, sports writer, of the Ledger; Hon. Fletcher W. Stites, Ira Thomas, Connie Mack's right-hand man and coach and scout of the Athletics; Herb Pennock, member of the pitching staff of the World's Champion Yankees, and Jimmy Dykes, of the A's, characterized as the best utility man in the American League. Connie Mack would also have been present had not ill health made necessary a trip South.

In addition to this outpouring of celebrities the banquet is made memorable as the swan song of Manager Fred Walzer, winner of 11 pennants for the Narberth Ball Club. Mr. Walzer's retirement from the managership at the close of this season was announced earlier, but the banquet is scheduled to put the finishing gracious touches on his successful baseball career.

Since the seating capacity of Elm Hall is limited to 175, all supporters of the baseball club, and that includes a large share of the borough's population, are advised to get their tickets as early as possible. They are now on sale at Davis' store and the Narberth Electric Shop. William T. McIntyre is the caterer for the dinner.

The committee in charge of the banquet plans includes the following: J. J. Cabrey, chairman; Charles V. Noel, John Nash, E. P. Dold, Chris Koch, Daniel Leitch, I. A. Miller, E. C. Griswold and Fletcher W. Stites.

A song leader, "Will" Lawrence, the minstrel man, has been engaged for the occasion and promises with the aid of a piano player to make the rafters ring. J. J. Cabrey will act as toastmaster.

It is rumored that there will be surprises for each member of the team, rewarding them in part for their excellent work during the past season. The cat will not be completely out of the bag, however, until the banquet hour has arrived.

An Annual Event for Narberth's Men

Fortunate indeed will the citizens be who find themselves seated at the festive board next Tuesday night at Elm Hall. Seldom do occasions arise which promise such an abundance of good things. And inasmuch as the seating capacity of Elm Hall is not what it used to be, it behooves all loyal supporters of the Narberth Baseball Club to get their tickets early.

There are at least three very good reasons (if anyone needs to be convinced) why this year's baseball banquet will be an outstanding event and should be supported by every sports-loving citizen of the borough. In the first place, the array of speakers who will be on deck for the occasion could not be surpassed. The Hon. Fletcher W. Stites, the silver-tongued; Lou Young, of Penn football fame; none other than Stoney McLinn, who "writes like an angel," and (don't rush, ladies and gentlemen) Herb Pennock, of the pitching staff of the world's champions Yankees, and Jimmy Dykes, the best utility man in the American League, and last but far from least, Ira Thomas, Connie Mack's right-hand man. Connie himself would have been present had not ill health necessitated a trip South, which coincided with the date set for the affair.

Secondly, the banquet will be Fred Walker's swan song. Fred has been manager of the Narberth Club for 18 seasons, and in that space of time has garnered a gleam of pennants. No mean achievement in this and his retirement will doubtless be a hard blow to local baseball.

And, finally, the banquet will be the first public christening of the new Elm Hall, giving the citizenry of the borough a chance to inspect the splendid furnishings and equipment of the fire company's building.

All out then to do honor to the 1928 champions of the Main Line.

sprinter was. His receiving of two aeriels in the Haverford game resulted in the first and last touchdowns for the team, and these same touchdowns were badly needed for victory. If he is used more in this capacity in future games, it is likely that Lower Merion will score more touchdowns.

Coach Adams' team is in good physical condition for the game with Lansdowne tomorrow at Ardmore. The individual players are improving rapidly and there is better teamwork. "Sandy" Ross is playing a fine game of center. His passing back is very good, and he teams up well with Scott, who plays a guard position, in the duty of opening up holes in the line for the backs to navigate. Henderson is having his eyes opened as to how the other guard position should be played, and he is coming out of the line fast on interference.

D'Amora is playing a consistent game at end, but Roach is probably the better man for all-around play. Al Mandes is the best defensive back on the team and he gives his brother better interference than any of the other backs. Peters did not have as good a day as usual, but he still is one of the best that Coach Adams can boast. Captain Bob Elmore is not as good when calling signals as he is without this responsibility, but he has the fight and is a good leader as well as a good ball-carrier. Parks is almost certain to supplant him at the quarterback post, if the junior member continues his fine work in that position. Cave and McLaughlin should both be used more in the games for they the both fine ball-carriers, Cave being especially gifted in open field running.

Lansdowne has a fine record so far, but they do not have the team that Lower Merion has at present. The boys are all rangy, heavy in football togs, and adept in the art of passing, but they do not seem to have quite the power that Lower Merion has. Lower Merion has looked sad on a number of occasions but the power is there individually. If the boys only get together. Both teams are undefeated this season, but Lower Merion will win this game fairly easily.

Hold First Meeting

The sub-junior section of the Women's Community Club held its first meeting of the year on Monday evening at Elm Hall. After much discussion and admiration of the new home the meeting was called to order by the new president, Elizabeth Vencman. Mrs. C. Arley Farmer, president of the Women's Community Club, gave a talk. Refreshments were served at the close by the hostesses, Jane Murray and Dot Miller. A new membership drive is on in charge of Mrs. L. Parker and the team captains, Ruth Hopkins and Eleanor Michaelson.

JOSEPHINE S. HOFFMAN

Mrs. Josephine S. Hoffman, wife of the late Harry B. Hoffman, passed away on October 19 at her home, 12 Woodside avenue. Solemn requiem mass was held at St. Margaret's Church on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment took place at West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

THE NEW ERA

BELL SYSTEM

AN ARCHITECTURAL FEAST

Library Has Two Fine Books on American Architecture.

The Narberth Library now has on its shelves two of the best books that have been published for laymen on the subject of American architecture. One of these, "The Story of American Architecture," by Talmadge, who is himself a practicing architect, traces in an informal and intimate manner the beginnings, growth and development of architecture in America. The story is not overburdened with technical terms and the classification of periods is made as simple as possible. The descriptions of Colonial architecture and of the mazes which the art followed in the nineteenth century are particularly interesting. The author's enthusiasm is contagious and if the reader is not left with an awakened or increased interest, as the case may be, in the architecture of America, the fault does not lie with the book.

The other volume, "The American Architecture of Today," a larger and more extensive work, particularly in the number of buildings mentioned and illustrated, is concerned more exclusively with American architecture of the present. The author, G. H. Edgell, is professor of fine arts and dean of the faculty of architecture at Harvard. He writes, as he himself says, "a layman's review for laymen." Mr. Edgell represents the best academic traditions and his work is marked by a balance, clarity and sanity that is so noticeably absent from much writing of the day. His acquaintance with the subject is extensive and thorough as anyone will readily admit upon perusing a few pages.

One of the admirable features of the book is the wealth of illustration accompanying the text. Pictures are, of course, almost indispensable in a book of this nature, but it is unusual to find such a quantity, 374 to be exact, as are incorporated in this volume.

The plan of the book reveals the thoroughness with which the subject is covered. It is divided into four sections, viz.: The development of American Architecture, Domestic Architecture, Ecclesiastical and Monumental Architecture and Commercial Architecture.

The book resembles nothing so much as an illustrated lecture by a charming and well-informed man. There are few buildings or types of buildings which do not come in for their share of attention. Simple dwellings, country houses, city houses, apartments, schools, college buildings, churches, cathedrals, and all the array of commercial structures, including the author's particular love, skyscrapers, all pass in review, with illuminating comments and an intelligent appreciation of how well they have fulfilled their dual function of being beautiful and practical.

Philadelphia comes in for considerable mention under the subject of domestic architecture. As we well know the suburban homes around her outskirts are outstanding. Mr. Edgell recognizes this and gives credit where credit is due. "In the small suburban house, most carefully studied in a pleasing local material, Philadelphia has led the way." And again, "The Philadelphia designers have solved one of the most important problems of American Architecture."

In the bewildering array of modern building the author finds many fascinating and even exciting things—from the charming and well-designed houses now being erected everywhere to the step-back skyscrapers evolving new forms and ideas of design.

CONVENIENT CO-OPERATION CUTS COSTS FRIENDLY

Hallowe'en is the time of all times for "make believe"—when the young folks, and lots of the older ones as well get themselves up for something they ARE NOT, which is all right for this one day, but it certainly does not work out during the other three hundred and sixty-four days of the year. To be permanently successful in these days of keen competition, there can be no "make believe." We must be continuously the best merchant possible, giving goods at reasonable prices, plus that God-given gift, courtesy, which, together with cheerful service, will surely win success anywhere and every time.

its present average bacterial count of 6 per cc. The previous best count reported was for the period up to the middle of July when 16 per cc. was the average and only 3 per cent. of the counts were greater than 100.

Action Was Expected.

The action of the Health Board in putting the water back on its approved list was expected in view of the attitude taken by the health officials the past two weeks. It was pointed out that had the water been proved dangerous the original warning of the board would have been followed up by others.

The situation was brought before the public at the regular monthly meeting of the Lower Merion Board on October 1 when report of the high count for the period from the middle of July to the end of September was heard and the declaration made that no improvement had been forthcoming following requests to the water company. Statement was then issued by the board urging residents to boil their water before using for drinking purposes.

A counter statement issued by Carleton E. Davis, manager of the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company, declaring the product of his firm "perfectly safe" and in no need of boiling, started an immediate controversy.

Independent civic and health organizations, uncertain of the condition in view of the two conflicting stands, began making tests of their own. These tests, all taken on or after October 8, uniformly substantiated the statement of the water company given out October 3 that the water was safe. In the meantime, Chemist Horn, who was taking samples for the Health Board from October 1 on, had also been finding the water registering well as to bacterial counts. That his reports were not acted upon sooner was perhaps due to desire on the part of the township health officials to be certain that there would be no relapse to the previous high count before closing the matter.

The meeting of the board Monday, called solely to review the water situation, was one of the shortest this year. In the absence of the president, Dr. Bertrand K. Wilbur, who was in Jersey, Vice President William P. Landis presided.

Traffic was too heavy at this point on City Line to be efficiently handled by lights, it was declared. Suggestions were made that traffic policemen be detailed to these points for rush hours.

Motion was also passed asking for installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Remington Road and Lancaster Pike.

Weight Limit Beats Juniors

Lower Merion Junior High School lost its first football game of the season to the 140-pound team of Haverford School last Thursday at Haverford. Many of Lower Merion's best players could not play in this game due to overweight. The score was 13-0.

Coach Suloff has his boys in readiness for their second game of the season to be played at South Ardmore this afternoon with the Haverford Junior High School. Thomas and Nevins are the best men for the Junior High School, both playing in the backfield.

L. M. H. S. Booters Lose

Coach Helveston's Lower Merion High School booters lost to Upper Darby High in a soccer game Tuesday afternoon at Upper Darby. The score was 2 to 1. Lower Merion was enjoying a 1 to 0 lead at half time due to Fricke's goal in the first quarter, but the proteges of Coach Milne came back in the last quarter and shot two goals before the visitors knew what was happening. Konrad and Kennedy scored for Upper Darby and Fricke again scored for Lower Merion on a neat pass from Purring.

Will Occur Less Often.

"The water on the top, chilled by the cold, sank and caused circulation of bottom layers in which there had been some decomposition of organic matter. Gases caused by this composition can not be removed by filtration. Therefore the taste and odor of which there was complaint. This taste will occur less frequently in the future as the reservoir is 'ripened.' It had nothing, however, to do with the action of the Health Board, though it may have had some significance in view of that action."

Before Mr. Davis was called upon by President George W. Selby, at whose invitation he was present, report was made by the sanitation committee of the club, headed by Dr. H. H. Lott, giving the water now served in Bala-Cynwyd a clean bill of health. Two samples taken from spigots in Cynwyd homes and analyzed by a chemist had been found satisfactory, according to the standards of the American Public Health Association, it was declared.

"The present case is a disagreement between the Water Company and the Board of Health and I am here to tell why the Water Company is right and only incidentally allude to why and wherein the Board of Health is wrong," said Manager Davis in his talk to the club.

"If you will pardon a personal reference, I have been connected with public water supplies for thirty years. During that time I have worked with many boards of health, health officials and eminent sanitarians, including men of such standing as the late General William C. Gorgas, Surgeon General of the United States Army.

"I do not want to undermine your confidence in the general high standing of your Board of Health and the good work done by it. But I believe it is proper for me to state in this instance that the Water Company has had much wider experience in water supply matters than has the Board; that the Water Company has at its command greater resources in data and information and the advantage of a wider range of expert advice to interpret this data, and that, furthermore, the Water Company closely co-operates with the State Department of Health and works under the continuous scrutiny of that department, than which there is none better in the country.

"As an instance of that co-operation I cite the fact that immediately upon learning of the action of the Lower Merion Board of Health, I advised the State Department, which forthwith made a special investigation.

Found Nothing Wrong.

"The results of that investigation were not given wide publicity for the reason that the State Department found nothing wrong and, having no duty to perform, remained silent.

"You may rest assured that if Springfield water were not safe, the State Department of Health would act at once in the performance of its duty, not only to Lower Merion, but to all suburban Philadelphia.

"The maintained integrity of Springfield water is an asset to this community. Anything which impairs public confidence in its water supply injures property, disturbs the peace of mind of the community and retards growth.

"Fortunately, the reputation of Springfield water is so secure that the recent action of the Board of Health will not have serious consequences. I have been informed that the Board of Health itself, at its township offices, has been drinking Springfield water as drawn from the spigot. I believe such has been the practice of the majority of the residents of Lower Merion.

"Nevertheless, some people have been disturbed and I welcome this opportunity to make a statement to your club dealing principally with the safeguards thrown around Springfield water which will illustrate the full and complete information continuously at the disposal of the Water Company in its constant, unrelaxing vigilance to maintain its supply at the highest standard.

Supply Comes From Pickering.

"The water supply of this locality comes principally from the Pickering Creek system. A small volume occasionally comes from Crum Creek. The two are practically the same and what I say in regard to the Pickering plant applies equally to the Crum plant.

"Pickering Creek is a tributary of the Schuylkill, entering that river several miles above Valley Forge. Its water shed or drainage area is one of the cleanest in this part of the State.

"The excellent sanitary conditions surrounding the raw water supply of the Pickering Creek purification works illustrates the type of co-operation between the Water Company and the State Department of Health.

"Following out its purpose to spare no pains or expense to the end that Springfield water should be the best in the country, the present ownership and management of the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company undertook an intensive sanitary inspection and clean-up of the water sheds from which it draws its supply. The Water Company has no police power to abate pollutions and the co-operation of the State Department of Health was, therefore, requested and readily accorded.

"The Water Company employs and pays an experienced sanitary inspector, who is deputized with necessary police power by the State. This inspector reports to both the State and to the Water Company, according to the nature of the case.

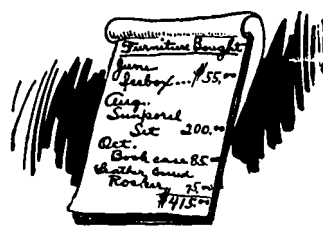

"As of March, 1927, the Pickering Creek shed was in excellent condition and has been continuously improved since that time.

"As of today only a few so-called pollutions remain, a typical one of which, which is now being corrected, is a discharge of waste milk from a dairy into the stream.

"A still further element of security has been placed about the raw water by the construction of a large storage reservoir at the lower end of the drainage area, from which reservoir raw water is drawn directly to the Pickering Creek purification works.
